

Do you want the opportunity to develop personally, professionally and academically to benefit clinical practice? If the answer is “yes”, this could be the development you are looking for!

NHS Education for Scotland invites General Practice Nurses with approximately 2 to 10 years’ experience, to apply for a Clinical Career Fellowship to develop their clinical skills and leadership potential to an advanced level. The Fellowship is due to commence in September 2019, with applications opening soon.

How Could the Fellowship Help Me?

The Fellowship aims to:

- equip you with advanced clinical skills
- develop your leadership potential
- increase your confidence
- help you to explore and resolve practice and professional issues
- provide a supportive environment for your development

The Fellowship Offer

- Funded post-graduate Diploma in Advanced Practice
- Leadership Masterclasses
- Action Learning Sets
- One-to-one support from an experienced professional
- Funding for study leave

To Apply

Further details, including an information pack and how to apply, can be found at: www.nes.scot.nhs.uk/education-and-training/by-discipline/nursing-and-midwifery/careers-and-recruitment/transforming-nmahp-roles/general-practice-nursing.aspx